Four Corners Community Bank welcomes Paul Thompson and Dr. John McNeill to its board of directors

FARMINGTON, NM (June 12, 2018) – After 18 years with its original directorship, Four Corners Community Bank (FCCB) has recently added two additional members to its board of directors: Paul Thompson and Dr. John McNeill.

“These two prominent community leaders were carefully selected,” said President and CEO, Sheila Mathews. “We feel they will become vital additions to our current team, and their involvement and direction will solidify the bank’s future for years to come.” Both are longstanding bank shareholders.

Paul Thompson is a registered professional engineer in the State of New Mexico, and president of Walsh Engineering in Farmington. He holds a Bachelor of Science in chemical engineering from New Mexico State University. Paul is a 35-year member of the Society of Petroleum Engineers and is a current member of the New Mexico Amigos. He previously served as president of the API Chapter and the Independent Petroleum Association of New Mexico, was a member of the Farmington Planning and Zoning Commission, and past president of the San Juan Country Club. Paul and his wife, Leslie, have three sons and two grandsons.

Dr. John McNeill owned a private oral and maxillofacial surgery practice in Farmington for over 30 years, until retiring in 2010. He received his D.D.S. from Georgetown School of Dentistry, did his general dentistry residency at Veterans Administration Hospital in Iowa City, and did his oral and maxillofacial surgery residency at the University of California. Dr. McNeill is a current member of the Metropolitan Redevelopment Agency and the Outdoor Recreation Industry Initiative, both for the City of Farmington. He is a past adjunct instructor at San Juan College, and served on the board of directors for Farmington Boys and Girls Club. Dr. McNeill and his wife, Dorothy, have two sons and one new grandchild.
